

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention concerns a wig characterized in that the inner surface (5) of its cap is, at least partly, made of flexible and self-adhesive parts (1), whereof the inner surface consists of a polysiloxane coat or film (3), oriented so as to be applied on the skin of the user's head, when said wig is worn.